PREFACE

The National Commission for women has now been in existence for over 25 years. The Commission had become operational with the National Commission for Women Act, 1990 (20 of 1990) coming into force on January 31, 1992. The activities of the Commission, over these years, have been reviewed and an exercise undertaken to introspect and reflect upon what we have been able to achieve and what has been missed out. As part of the exercise, we noticed that while this journey of 25 years has many positives, there are some systemic and structural inadequacies and shortcomings that inhibit our reach and constrain our endeavour of improving the status of women.

Safeguarding and promoting the constitutional and legal rights and entitlements of women entails a multi-pronged strategy including creation of an environment in which women from all spheres of life can realize their full potential and contribute effectively to nation building. This requires a sustained effort and continuous engagement with stake-holders. With this in view, the Commission, during 2017-18, continued to leverage its active collaboration with the Ministries and Departments of the Central Government, the State Commissions for Women, the State Government Departments, educational institutions and non-governmental organizations both at the national and international levels.

During 2017-18, the Commission continued its activities for disseminating knowledge and information to stake-holders through a series of seminars, workshops, legal awareness programmes, gender sensitization programmes, etc. These programmes were organised in collaboration with different organisations. The Commission also sponsored a number of research studies on issues concerning women with a view to evolving new ideas that could help in furthering the cause of women. The Commission conducted a series of programmes for law enforcement agencies for enhancing awareness about the laws relating to women and for keeping gender sensitivities in view while discharging their functions.

The Commission had earlier conducted a study on the status of social, economic and political empowerment of women in North Eastern States. The Commission is, now pursuing the recommendations with all agencies concerned to ensure that action at ground level happens. In this connection, meetings were organized with State Commissions for Women of the North East States and North-East Council and short, medium and long terms issues were identified for implementation. The Commission has also launched the training programme for empowering Elected Women Representative of Panchayati Raj Institutions in Manipur. The Commission successfully organized competitions for college/university students on laws related to women. The Commission continued to organize interactive meetings with State Commissions for establishing coordination between the National Commission and State Commissions.

The Commission receives a large number of complaints from aggrieved women. The complaints concern problems faced by them in their day to day life at home, at workplace and at other places resulting in denial of a life of dignity. The Commission has developed a fully functional online system for registration of complaints, their processing and resolution. The Commission has also been pursuing complaints proactively with concerned authorities in the State and also with the employers in public and private sector. The Commission, on account of its pro-active efforts, has been able to address a large number of such complaints. Field visits and inquiries were also conducted by the Commission to investigate specific cases of discrimination and atrocities against women.

The Commission has continued to take suo motu cognizance of a large number of incidents involving deprivation of the rights of women and heinous crimes against them. The Commission's efforts resulted in expeditious investigation and also prosecution of perpetrators of such crimes. The Commission has also continued to provide assistance for resolving matters relating to non-resident Indian marriages in coordination with the Ministry of External Affairs, our missions abroad and State police authorities, etc..

The Commission, being conscious of the fact that women in custody need to be provided with facilities that ensure their dignity and the conditions in custodial homes have to be humane, has developed a comprehensive proforma for inspection of prisons and custodial homes and shared it with authorities concerned with the advice to fill it up and forward the same to the Commission. The Commission visited/inspected jails/custodial institutions to get a first hand information about the condition of women inmates and, wherever necessary, recommended remedial measures to the authorities concerned. Similar inspections have been carried out in case of psychiatric homes in the country. More inspections of both the Custodial homes and Psychiatric homes are planned for 2018-19.

The Project "Violence free Home – A Woman's Right", positions social workers/counselors in Crime Against Women (CAW) Cells. The project has been extended on pilot basis to Odisha, Punjab, Assam, Meghalaya, Tamil Nadu, Madhya Pradesh and Bihar and is now operational in these States.

Overall, the year has witnessed a major spurt in activities of the Commission that enhanced the reach of the Commission and helped in empowering women. A lot of new programmes and interventions have been planned by the Commission in partnership with other stake-holders for implementation over next few years. We hope to further step up our activities during 2018-19 and beyond. I am reminded of Gandhiji words that 'a clay pot would break through impact, if not with one stone, then with another. The way to save the pot is not to keep it away from the danger point but to bake it so that no stone would break it'. The Commission, taking guidance from Gandhiji's words, continues to take steps to empower women so that they could meet the challenges effectively and convert them into opportunities.

I take this opportunity to express my gratitude for the support provided by various Ministries/Departments of the Government of India, Cooperation of the State/UT Governments, my colleagues, officials and staff of the Commission. The collective efforts and commitment of all of them has made it possible to ensure improved outcomes during the year.

CHAPTER -2

COMPLAINTS AND INVESTIGATION

- 2.1 Redressal of grievances and complaints concerning deprivation of women's rights and non-implementation of laws enacted to safeguard their rights is one of the important activities undertaken by the Commission. Addressing individual concerns goes a long way in ensuring actual access to Constitutional and legal rights of women at grass root level. This is so as the laws, rights, entitlements, schemes, programmes, projects, etc. are only as good as their implementation is. All these must result in reduced grievances at one end and speedy redressal of such reduced grievances at the other.
- 2.2 The Complaints and Investigation Cell deals with complaints received from all over the country regarding deprivation of women's rights/non-implementation of laws, etc. The Cell receives the complaints in writing or through online mode i.e., www.ncw.nic.in. Some complaints are also made orally. The Commission utilizes the services of professionals and experts in related fields such as psychologists, psychiatrists, legal counselors, etc. to address complaints. During the year 2017-18, the Commission has further strengthened the Cell by engaging additional manpower.
- 2.3 The Commission, while handling/processing complaints, leverages its association with the State police authorities, State Women Commissions, National Legal Service Authority, State Legal Services Authority, District Legal Services Authority, etc. Where required, activities are also coordinated with the National Human Rights Commission and the National Commission for Protection of Child Rights and other Commissions.
- 2.4 The Commission has been a pioneer in the use of Information Technology for handling complaints. The Commission introduced online registration of complaints in 2005 for speedy and easy registration of complaints through the Commission's website i.e. www.ncw.nic.in. The software has continued to be upgraded periodically to meet the changing requirements and make it user friendly. The system enables quicker registration, acknowledgement and processing of complaints. Anyone with a concern can log in from anywhere and register the complaint. The complaint is given a registration number. The complaint is, thereafter, processed in the same manner as applicable in case of complaints received through post/by hand, etc. The system also enables the complainants to track the progress of their cases by logging in to the system using their unique user ID and password provided at the time of registration.
- 2.5 The Commission has, with a view to ensuring adequate attention to complaints of different types, keeping in view the seriousness involved, devised a scientific protocol for handling them. As part of this, it has classified complaints into 'non-mandate' and 'mandate' categories. Based on the experience of the Commission, the complaints received by the Commission broadly fall into following categories:

- i. Complaints relating to police apathy/police inaction. Such complaints are forwarded to the authorities concerned for ensuring timely and fair investigation in the matter. The Action Taken Reports (ATRs) are called for and examined to ascertain whether the action taken is appropriate in view of the nature of the complaint. The Commission continues to pursue the matters with authorities concerned on phone, through e-mail and in writing. The Commission monitors the progress of individual complaints till these reach logical conclusion;
- ii. Family/matrimonial disputes are, where feasible, resolved through counseling. The Commission makes at least one attempt to counsel the parties for resolving the discord. In case of outstation couples/ families, the help of local authorities/ State Women Commissions/ SLSA/ DLSA/Protection Officers is also sought. With a view to resolving the cases expeditiously, the matters pertaining to a State are also taken up during Jan Sunwai where senior Police officials including Director General/Commissioner of Police, other police officers including investigating officer concerned, are present.
- (iii) In case of serious crimes, the Commission constitutes Inquiry Committees. These Committees undertake on the spot inquiries, examine various witnesses, collect evidence and submit reports with their recommendations to the Commission. Such investigations help in providing immediate relief and justice to the victims of violence and atrocities. The Commission monitors implementation of the recommendations of Inquiry Committees and continues to pursue the matter with the concerned State Governments/Authorities till a charge-sheet is filed in the court of law or the matter is closed in cases where the allegations made in the complaint are not established after investigation.
- (iv) In respect of complaints related to sexual harassment at workplace, the concerned Organization/Department/Authority is advised to have the matter investigated by the Internal Committee as per provisions of the Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace (Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal) Act, 2013. All such organizations are also advised to submit a copy of the report of the Internal Committee to the Commission for its perusal. The Commission also takes proactive steps for generating awareness about the provisions of the Act through media, workshops/ seminars, etc..
- (v) The complaints that are not directly related to deprivation of women's rights, keeping in view their mandate, are forwarded to the respective State Commissions for Women, National Human Rights Commission, National Commissions for the Scheduled Caste, National Commission for Scheduled Tribes and their State counterparts for initiating appropriate action. In other cases, the complaints are forwarded to authorities concerned for action as deemed appropriate.

NON- RESIDENT INDIAN MARRIAGE RELATED ISSUES

- 3.1 The barriers to movements and interconnections beyond one's regional and national boundaries have reduced to a great extent as a result of globalization. Cross-region and cross-border movement and migration for education, work, trade and marriage is not uncommon these days. Transnational migration for marriage is also common among Indians. As a result, issues, particularly those involving NRI marriages where at-least one of the parties to the marriage is an Indian citizen, continue to crop up from time to time.
- 3.2 Disputes related to NRI Marriages involve legal complexities on account of the fact that these marriages are governed not only by Indian Laws but also involve the legal system of the country of residence of the party living outside India either as an Indian citizen or a citizen of such other country. The issues of jurisdiction and conflict of law in areas concerning separation/divorce, maintenance, child custody and inheritance, etc. continue to crop up in such marriages. The vulnerable position of women in such marriages is reflected by various forms of violence such as domestic violence, desertion, ex parte divorce, child custody through decree of foreign courts and lack of maintenance and child support to name a few.
- 3.3 In April 2009, the National Commission for Women was nominated as the National Coordinating Agency by the Government of India for coordinating efforts of different stakeholders for dealing with issues pertaining to NRI marriages. The Commission set up an NRI Cell on 24th September, 2009. The Cell has been further strengthened by the Commission during 2017-18 keeping in view the large number of NRI marriage related cases.
- 3.4 The major functions entrusted to the NRI Cell are as under:
  - (i) To receive and process complaints from Indian women deserted by their NRI/ Overseas husbands and render all possible assistance to complainants. This includes conciliation/mediation between parties, aid in legal matters, taking up matters with our missions/embassies abroad, coordinating with different stakeholders, State governments, police authorities in States/UTs concerned, SLSA/DLSA, Ministries concerned and NGOs/community organisations in India and abroad. With a view to expedite action, 'Action Taken Reports' are sought from authorities concerned on matters referred to them.
  - (ii) To take suo moto cognizance of any issue coming to the notice of the Commission.
  - (iii) To make efforts towards maintaining a data-bank/record of cases registered with the Commission for policy intervention.

- (iv) To attempt devising suitable training modules for sensitization of various stakeholders such as judiciary, police, and administration, etc. and for creating awareness among general public on issues related to NRI marriages.
- 3.5 The Commission facilitates redressal of grievances through inter-agency convergence of services and interventions from different stakeholders such as police, line Ministries, Indian embassies and our missions abroad and the voluntary organisations/NGOs. The Commission helps aggrieved women to avail the facilities offered under the scheme of MEA viz. “Legal and Financial Assistance to Indian Women Deserted by their Overseas Indian Spouses”. The MEA scheme is implemented through empanelled organisations. The Commission takes up matters with Indian Missions with request to reach out to aggrieved women and render any other assistance as required by them directly or indirectly through empanelled organisations. The Commission also communicates with the Ministry of Home Affairs and the Ministry of Law and Justice to expedite service of summons and warrants issued or any orders passed by the appropriate Court of Law and for other relevant matters, whenever and wherever required.
- 3.6 The NRI Cell receives complaints from women on issues related to NRI marriages from across the country and also those residing abroad. The Table below summarises the state-wise details of complaints registered with the NRI Cell from April 1, 2017 to March 31, 2018.

NRI cases Registered During Financial Year 2017-18.

3.7 Broadly, the complaints received from aggrieved women residing in India in case of NRI marriages concern the following:

Grounds of Complaints in Case of Aggrieved Women Residing in India

- Desertion
- Domestic violence and dowry harassment by husband and in-laws
- Ex parte decision, by foreign court on divorce and child custody
- Forced possession of passport/other documents of the complainant by husband/in-laws
- Whereabouts of husband not known to the complainant
- Apprehension of complainants about husbands leaving the country
- Maintenance of complainant and her children
- Service of legal documents abroad

3.8 The complaints from women residing abroad broadly concern the following:

Grounds of Complaints of Women Residing Abroad

- Desertion
- Domestic violence and dowry harassment by husband and in-laws
- Forced possession by husband/in-laws of passport/other documents of the complainant.
- Lack of support to contest court cases concerning divorce or child custody initiated by husband
- Filing of false cases of domestic violence by husband against the complainant

3.9 The Commission has, during the Financial Year 2017-18, succeeded in dispensing justice to a large number of aggrieved women in matters relating to NRI marriages. Thus, for example, in a case where after the FIR had been registered against the husband and in-laws and the High Court had issued a Non-bailable Warrant against the accused husband, the execution was getting delayed. The matter was pursued by the Commission with the concerned authorities and, as a result, the accused was arrested in May, 2017 when he came to India. In another case, the passport of the accused husband was impounded and Look Out Circular (LoC) was issued as a result of the intervention by the Commission. Subsequently, the accused was arrested from Mumbai Airport. In still another case, the woman was deserted in USA by her husband. The Commission helped her in getting temporary shelter through the Consulate General of India. She has also been provided support under the scheme of financial and legal assistance run by MEA for contesting the case of child custody in the American court. In yet another case, with the intervention of the Commission, the aggrieved woman and her husband and in-laws reached an understanding and the woman went back to her matrimonial home.

- 3.10 Keeping the alarming increase in the number of complaints relating to NRI marriages from Punjab over the years in view, the National Commission for Women organized a one day National Seminar in collaboration with the Punjab State Commission for Women on 20th April, 2017 at Chandigarh on the issue of “NRI Marriages: Issue, Challenges and Way Forward”. The Commission also organised another one day seminar on NRI marriages on 16th June, 2017 at Amritsar, Punjab. In both these events, a large number of queries of the stake-holders were clarified.
- 3.11 In view of intricacies involved in NRI marriages due to conflict of laws and jurisdictions, the Commission provided a common platform to aggrieved women to interact with stake-holders from various Ministries/Departments of the Government of India concerned with NRI marriage related issues. The consultation meeting on the subject was held on 27th March 2018 in the National Commission for Women wherein the aggrieved women or their representatives from Himachal Pradesh, Andhra Pradesh, Telangana and Delhi were invited to participate and share their problems and experiences to enable understanding of various issues and envisioning possible solutions. The meeting helped in removing a large number of doubts and apprehensions in the mind of complainants. It also helped in understanding the perspectives of all stake-holders concerned.

POLICY, MONITORING AND RESEARCH

- 5.1 The National Commission for Women, amongst others, undertakes promotional and educational research with the objective of ensuring due representation of women in all spheres of life. Such studies, conducted by the Commission, or through other partner institutions, help in identifying factors that impede women's advancement and their effective participation in social, economic and political spheres. The Policy, Monitoring and Research Cell (PMRC) of the Commission handles cases relating to promotional and educational research for investigating specific problems or situations arising out of discrimination and atrocities against women. Such studies help in identifying constraints and recommend strategies for removal of the identified constraints. During the year 2017-18, the Commission funded a series of activities including seminars and workshops and research studies for analysing factors responsible for drudgery and occupational health hazards of women. These activities have been undertaken in partnership with various governmental and non-governmental organisations.
- 5.2 The Commission had, in the month of August 2017, invited online proposals for organising seminars and conducting Research Studies. There was a good response and 165 and 968 Organisations/researchers applied for organising research studies and conducting seminars, respectively. After scrutiny of the proposals, 29 research studies and 83 seminars were approved for being funded by the Commission. - (i) No official statistics available on the exact number of Devadasis. Therefore, it is suggested to identify prevalence of various forms of devadasi system in India.
  - (ii) The already existing legislations, policies and programmes for prevention of dedication and rehabilitation of devadasis may be strengthened and implemented.
  - (iii) The common names given to devadasi women like Basavis, Jogini, Mathamma, etc., is a violation of basic human rights. These women be educated to recognize the importance of their self-identity and to be known by their individual names.

- (v) Awareness campaigns be launched for educating girls and their parents about devadasis.
- (vi) The priests, temple trustees, old devadasis and the local affluent landlords be educated about ill effects of devadasi system especially in temples of Yellamma, Mathamma, etc..
- (vii) The temple priests and village level Government officials be made responsible for immediately reporting new initiation of girls as devadasis.

- (xii) Procedures for availing benefits/incentives for marriage with devdasis be simplified and, at-least, one partner may be given employment to enable them to lead a happy and dignified life.
- (xiii) Solemnization of marriage should be conducted by a competent officer and registration of marriage should be made mandatory.
- (xiv) Based on the skills to be determined through a base line survey, vocational training be imparted to such woman to facilitate employment opportunities.
- (xv) Government should take initiative to provide loans through banks and cooperative societies to start small scale business. Self Help Groups of devadasis be established in devadasi dominated districts.

This, coupled with activities of temple priests, local influential people, brothel houses in red light areas which are the major hubs for devadasis indulging in prostitution, can help in reducing the practice.
- (xxiv) Reformation and rehabilitation of devadasis after rescue can be better effected if the government constructs shelter homes/temporary stay homes for rescued devadasis. Such homes, should have a provision for providing non-formal education and psychological, medical, legal and financial support to rescued devadasis.
- (xxv) The rescued devadasis should, with their consent, be tested for venereal diseases like STD/HIV/AIDS and provided medical support.
- (xxvi) Legal support, if required by such devdasis, should be provided to them.
- (xxvii) Periodical follow-up of the rehabilitated devadasis be undertaken to prevent their going back to same profession.
- (xxviii) Rehabilitation and correctional centres be located in rural areas and voluntary organisations managed by trained social workers be provided necessary financial assistance for running such homes.
- (xxix) Reintegration of the rehabilitated Devadasis into the family be taken up as it is an important phase in the process of making them lead a normal life in the family. It will avoid exploitation by pimps and human traffickers.

- (xxx) Awareness programmes, including by leveraging television, can be used effectively for raising consciousness among devadasis and the community at large. These should include anti-dedication programmes and counselling sessions. State and District level Committees may be formed for implementation of the programme.
- (xxxi) The rehabilitation schemes for devdasis should include quicker processing of documents to establish their identity and catering for transgenders working as devdasis.

CHAPTER -8

DELIBERATIONS ON LEGAL ISSUES

- 8.1 Realization of the full potential of women requires creation of an environment that is conducive for them to participate in all social, economic and political activities while ensuring that their rights, entitlements and dignity are not compromised. This entails everybody being treated fairly and in accordance with the rule of law. For this, it is essential that the society at large is conversant with the laws of the land and the machinery involved in enforcement of laws is appropriately sensitized about such laws. It is also required that the existing laws are reviewed and modified and new ones enacted in keeping with the changing requirements to ensure justice, liberty and equality to all at all times.
- 8.2 The Legal Cell of the National Commission for Women is responsible for coordinating activities relating to review of the existing provisions of the Constitution and other laws affecting women and recommend legislative measures to remove any lacunae, inadequacies or short-comings in such legislations. The Cell also helps in generating awareness amongst all stakeholders about laws concerning women. It also provides legal assistance to other cells of the Commission.
- 8.3 With a view to disseminate information about the Constitutional and Legal provisions, the National Commission for Women launched a nationwide programme for generating awareness about the legal rights of women to ensure that all sections of society are fully conversant with the law and contribute effectively for their successful implementation. As part of this programme, a competition to assess and enhance legal awareness about the rights of women was organised at College and University level between September and November, 2017. Around 525 colleges were reimbursed for participating in competition across the country. Each College/University was given an amount of Rs.20,000/- for organizing the competition and an amount of Rs. 8, 500 as cash prizes by the National Commission for Women. A Module on laws related to women was also prepared by the National Commission for Women for the purpose.
- 8.4 A day long National consultation on “Applicability of Pre-Nuptial Agreements in India” was organised on 18th August, 2017 at the National Commission for Women. The Consultation saw diverse views being expressed by stakeholders across the country. The participants were representatives of the Central and State Governments, lawyers, activists, academicians, other civil society organizations, sociologists, psychologists, financial analysts, etc. The key recommendations that emerged from the Consultation are as below:-
- (i) The existing arrangements under different laws governing marriages in the country need to be suitably modified to ensure equity and dignity of women as equal partners in marriage and also in the event of marriage coming to an end.
  - (ii) Arrangements be institutionalized to ensure that partners to a marriage are, in the event of marriage, not working out, not forced to go in for expensive and time consuming litigation and the resultant bitterness and sense of deprivation. The pre-nuptial agreement and the law be enacted to deal with such issues to provide a clear basis for parting of ways.

8.5 The Commission, in collaboration with Jamia Milia Islamia University, New Delhi, organised a day long National Seminar on “Combating Acid Attacks in India: Socio-Legal Aspects” on 24th January, 2018 at the National Commission for Women. The key recommendations that emerged from the Consultations are as below:-

- (i) The existing provisions relating to punishment for offence of throwing acid may be made more stringent.
- (ii) The maximum punishment for acid attack deserves to be at par with that for rape/gang rape and punishment for it should be life imprisonment.
- (iii) Investigation by the concerned police authorities need to be conducted in a time-bound manner leading to timely filing of the charge-sheet in the court.
- (iv) Monetary relief should be provided in the form of Fixed Deposit to the victim.
- (v) Reservation in jobs should be provided for victims of acid attack.

CHAPTER -9

INSPECTION OF JAILS, CUSTODIAL HOMES AND PSYCHIATRIC INSTITUTIONS

- 9.1 The National Commission for Women has, with a view to ensure humane conditions for women housed in jails and other custodial homes, been undertaking inspection of such homes from time to time. Similar exercise is also being carried out in respect of psychiatric institutions. The objective of such inspections is to identify areas where improvements can be made to provide a better, safer and gender sensitive environment for female inmates, minimize the social stigma attached with staying in such institutions and help the inmates to improve their skill set and attitudes towards life. It also entails synchronization of efforts for institutionalization of educational programmes, vocational/skill development training, recreational activities, remunerated work, counseling, etc. so as to enable them to re-integrate with family/society after their release. The inspections also assess the efficacy of free legal aid to such inmates in prisons/custodial Homes for safeguarding their rights.
- 9.2 During the course of inspection of Jails, the representatives of State Women Commissions, NGOs and DLSA are associated. The inspection teams invariably interact with female inmates in Jails, employees and other stakeholders. The observations/findings/recommendations in respect of Institutions inspected are sent to the concerned authorities in the Central and State Governments, including the Ministry of Women and Child Development for further necessary action for implementation of the recommendations emerging from such inspections. All these inspections seek to ensure that the rights of women inmates are not violated and provisions as per Jail Manual, are observed.
- 9.3 In order to ensure that efforts of the Commission result in an objective and fair assessment of the position on ground and the observations/findings can help in making the Jail conditions in women wards more humane, the Commission has devised a comprehensive proforma for inspection of Jails. The proforma has been shared by the Commission with DG/ADG/IG Prisons and officers in-charge of Jails in States and UTs. A copy of the proforma is also available on the website of the Commission to enable easy access for use by all concerned. Information in the prescribed proforma, duly filled in, has been collected by the Commission from a large number of Jails. The proforma can also be used for self-introspection and improvement by Jails/Custodial homes.
- 9.4 The National Commission for Women has, in the first instance, taken up inspection of central jails in the country. ## CHAPTER -10

USE OF INFORMATION COMMUNICATION TECHNOLOGY

- 10.1 Information communication technologies are now an increasingly ubiquitous element in our day to day lives. At the societal level, leveraging these technologies is critical for unleashing the economic potential of the country and enhancing the productivity as also ensuring inclusive development. ICT has the potential to bring about an overall improvement in the quality of human life by inter alia reducing drudgery. Deployment of ICT for all-round development of women with emphasis on creation of an enabling environment has long been considered a potent tool. Employment of women in knowledge based societies requires building up their ability to participate in economic activities and skills to gain insight into the issues and overcome social and institutional barriers. ICT can play a vital role in this.
- 10.2 The National Commission for Women has been at the forefront of using information technology tools for making the processes transparent and also for introducing speed in decision making. The Commission had started electronic receipt processing and disposal of complaints received as early as in 2005. Keeping the criticality of IT in view, the National Commission for Women has been using IT tools in many of its activities for a long period of time and such use has continued to increase progressively and further improvements have been made in the system over the years. The system provides the facility to the individual complainant to track the progress of her complaints online.
- 10.3 e-Office, a Mission Mode Project under the National e-Governance Programme (NeGP) of the Government of India facilitates simplified, responsive, effective and transparent process of carrying out office procedures electronically. The Commission has successfully implemented e-Office with effect from December, 2016. Major part of the functions of the Commission are now handled electronically.
- 10.4 Reimbursement of proposals related to competition on women related laws for college/ university students were received and processed electronically. Similarly, all research/ seminar proposals were received, processed and finalized using online software.
- 10.5 During the year 2017-18, the Commission created an online platform for monitoring the progress of disposal of cases relating to acid attack and compensation paid in such cases. For this, access has been provided to the nodal officers across the States/UTs for updation of data.

10.6 The Commission has, during the Financial Year 2017-18, also taken steps to enhance digital literacy amongst college and university students for which a programme has been envisioned in collaboration with other partners.

The Sexual Harassment at Workplace (Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal) Act, 2013 has been enacted to provide an effective mechanism to safeguard the rights of women and it inter alia provides for constitution of an Internal Committee to inquire into the complaints of sexual harassment.
- 12.2 In terms of the provisions of Section 4 of the Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace (Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal) Act, 2013, the National Commission for Women has constituted an Internal Committee (earlier known as Internal Complaints Committee) to examine complaints of sexual harassment at workplace. ## CHAPTER -14

MEDIA AND OUTREACH PROGRAMMES

- 14.1 Improvement in the status of women and their empowerment inter alia requires increased public awareness regarding laws and schemes relating to women. It also requires a concerted effort by all concerned agencies of the Government and those working in the non-governmental sector. Generating public awareness about the laws and schemes relating to women is an important step for creating an environment conducive for women's participation in diverse activities and their growth. Being conscious of this, the Commission continues to proactively engage with media for furthering the rights, entitlements, interests and welfare of women and assuring them a life full of dignity. The National Commission for Women has taken a series of initiatives to enhance awareness about such issues during 2017-18 through media including sharing details of its important activities and events on social media through its official Facebook and Twitter handle. ## CHAPTER -17

HIGHLIGHTS OF AUDIT REPORT AND REPLIES FOR THE YEAR 2017-18 AND ACTION TAKEN THEREON

S.No.	AUDIT PARA	COMMISSION'S REPLY
A	Balance Sheet
A.1	Liabilities
A.1.1	Current Liabilities and Provisions (Schedule-7) : Rs. 942.02 lakh
A.1.1.1	Out of unspent amount of grant for the year ended 31 March, 2018, an amount of Rs. 0.53 lakh (postage stamps in hand) was not shown as refundable to the Ministry. This had resulted in understatement of Current Liabilities and overstatement of Capital Funds by the like amount.	These are minor technical issues and have been taken note of.
A.1.1.2	As per the bank reconciliation statement, 15 cheque aggregating to Rs. 2.07 lakh was issued by NCW during June, 2016 to December, 2017 but not encashed till 31.3.2018, hence it became time barred. However, the time barred cheques were not written back, which resulted in understatement of Liabilities (Creditors) and Current Assets (Bank balance) by the like amount.
A.1.1.3	NCW has pending bills of Rs. 0.11 lakh in March, 2018 for which no liability was created in the annual accounts for the year ending 31 st March, 2018 ( details are given at Annexure-A(i) ). This has resulted in understatement of Liabilities as well as Expenditure by the like amount.
A.1.1.4	Provision for salary for the month of March, 2018 amounting to Rs, 10.74 lakh in respect of contractual staff was not made. This resulted in understatement of Liabilities as well as Expenditure by the like amount.
A.2.	Assets
A.2.1.1	Fixed Assets(Schedule 8)-Rs. 1852.96 lakh
	NCW acquired fixed assets of Rs. 0.89 lakh ( details are given at Annexure A (ii) ) during the year 2017-18; however, the same was not capitalized. This had resulted in understatement of fixed assets as well as capital funds by the like amount.	These will be rectified during the financial year 2018-19.
A.2.1.2	As per Income Tax, rate of depreciation on computer is 40 percent with effect from Financial year 2017-18. However, depreciation at the rate of 60 percent was charged on computer by NCW in the annual accounts for 2017-18. This resulted in understatement of Fixed Assets by Rs. 4.55 lakh and overstatement of Expenditure by the like amount.

A2.2	Current Assets, Loans &amp; advances ( Schedule-11): Rs. 1118.64 lakh
A.2.2.1	Closing balance of inventory (consumable stock) was depicted as Rs. 3.43 lakh instead of actual balance of Rs. 2.30 lakh. This has resulted in overstatement of Current Assets as well as Expenditure by Rs. 1.13 lakh .	Noted for future compliance
B.	Income and Expenditure
B.1.1	Expenditure- Other Administrative Expenses (Schedule-21): Rs. 1231.27 lakh	Noted for future compliance
B.1.1.1	NCW made prior period expenses amounting to Rs. 2.52 lakh for which no liability was created as on 31.03.2017 (details at Annexure-A (iii) ). This resulted in overstatement of Expenditure and understatement of Prior Period Expenses by the like amount.
B.1.1.2	Expenditure amounting to Rs. 164.92 lakh has been depicted as Office Expenses, whereas, as per ledger the amount is Rs. 163.25 lakh. This resulted in overstatement of Expenditure and understatement of Capital Fund by Rs. 1.67 lakh.	This will be rectified during the financial year 2018-19.
C	General
C.1	NCW had outstanding liabilities amounting to Rs. 342.72 lakh pending from the period 2008-09 to 2016-17. These are pending as the UCs for the first installments are pending; These need to be cleared at the earliest.	It needs to be noted that on an average, the research studies take 2 to 3 years for completion. As such, some amount will always be outstanding at the end of the Financial year. Efforts are, however being made to clear the outstanding liabilities at the earliest and reminders have been issued to the concerned persons/ organisations.

These needs to be recovered/adjusted at the earliest.	Efforts are being made to clear the outstanding advances at the earliest and reminders have been sent to concerned persons/ organizations.
